Time to Remember

I want to take time to remember Cuz I always make time to forget When it usually ends in disaster I know its not over yet (its not over yet) Right here I face the crowd alone With nothing And I know I'm on my own Even if I wanna get high today I'm living in my head And it'll be okay I know I can't I care enough to say It's finished Since I saw through open eyes Without you I wasn't strong I never quite Even if I wanna get high today I'm living in my head And it'll be okay I know I can't I care enough to say stop the track to look back see how much has changed stop my track to look back see how much has changed (ahhhhhh) see how much has changed (3x)
