

Stubborn (It's a Shame)

3T

[Verse:]

Baby I've been being cool with you for quite a while Trying to pick and choose my fights 'cause girl that is more my style
But lately I've been so confused
The way you acted just ain't you
What am I supposed to do
You know that it's not fair whenever
You say, you're giving me all that you can
When you say you wanna find another man
Well I'm not gonna be a fool
Telling you what I'm through with you
Your constantly breaking the rules
And I refuse to play your silly game

[Chorus:]

It's a shame that you're never gonna change
I can see that you'll always be the same
What you do ain't what you say
You just sit, whine and complain
And it's a shame, babe, that you're never ever gonna change your ways

[Verse:]

Girl you act like you are perfect
Well guess what, you're not
Who was there for you when you were down, yet you forgot
The time and love I gave to you
What's up with your attitude
Your middlename it should be ''rude''
Still I don't really care when you say you never wanna speak again
When you say I'm not a gentleman (ha! is that right)
Well baby I've got news for you
I'm packing up and leaving you
You ain't gonna see my face again
'Cause I can't take your stubberant ways

[Chorus:]

It's a shame that you're never gonna change
I can see that you'll always be the same
What you do ain't what you say
You just sit, whine and complain
And it's a shame babe that you're never ever gonna change your ways

[Hook:]

Even if we tried our best to work it out
You'd find something else in two weeks to complain about
You never smile
You just focus on the negative
And that's not the way you ought to live
So you say you want another man
Well baby understand
He's not gonna want your stubborn ways
And girl you know that it's a shame

[Chorus:]

It's a shame that you're never gonna change
I can see that you'll always be the same
What you do ain't what you say

You just sit, whine and complain
And it's a shame babe that you're never ever gonna change your ways

It's a shame that you're never gonna change
I can see that you'll always be the same
What you do ain't what you say
You just sit, whine and complain
And it's a shame babe that you're never ever gonna change your ways

Stubborn