

Your Last Rise Of Dawn

A Call to Sincerity

This is, this a fight for those
Who hope that we would have some better days to come
This is a fight for victory, there's no second chance
It's just you and your enemy

Hear the screams of hitting blades
The dust on your face is washed by the rain
Don't be deaf to our world's yell

By now they still see the dawn,
We're fighting for a new tomorrow
And fuck no, they would stand through the rain
Smiling ear to ear
Cause fear is not an escape,
The pity we don't expect.

This is our last rise of dawn
We won't rest it's a fight for hope

Our legs can't be fucking shaking, they won't crumble, no !
Our hands can't be fucking trembling,
Cause we've walk this path for Far too long

By now we still see the dawn,
We're fighting for a new tomorrow
And fuck no, they will stand through the rain
Smiling ear to ear
Cause fear is not an escape,
The pity we don't expect, OH

This city is dedicated to die
The sky will turn to red tonight
This city is dedicated to die
But we'll stand as one

The thunder roar to gives us confidence
We'll brave the silence.

This is a fight for hope.
We will not give it up
We will not give it up

I'm not affraid to repay our mistakes
I'm not scared to bear the pain, as lightness feathers
I'm not affraid to repay our mistakes
I'm not scared to bear the pain, as lightness feathers
This is a fight for hope.
