

The Plague That Haunts Me

A Canorous Quintet

Death, deceit, dismay
The horrors of life unveiled
It is all a lie - life is hell
The paleness of it all so real

A grey image of what used to be
If this world could just vanish

Inject the fluid, inject disease
Erase the plague that haunts me
Destroy my human appetites
Let my weakness, be(come) my guide

I scream, I destroy, I want to kill
Kill what's left to be killed
Everyone should be silenced
Who's my god to be?
The one who can erase my memories

Inject the fluid, inject disease
Erase the plague that haunts me
Destroy my human appetites
Let my weakness, be(come) my guide

The divine images, they enchant me
I can no longer resist, I fall prey to my urges
I'll pay with my complacency
And so should you my dear

Inject the fluid, inject disease
Erase the plague that haunts me
Destroy my human appetites
Let my weakness, be(come) my guide
