

I'm Alive

A Change of Pace

I'm alive when I'm missing you

I'm heading out for the lone star state and flying over Santa Fe

I'm looking out at a mountain range

I brace myself for the life I made

For too young at heart, hoping for one more day

This airport terminal can't see

Everything you mean to me

I'm alive when I'm missing you

I'm alive but too far

I'm alive when I'm missing you

I'm alive but too far from your room

I remember not sleeping

Hold on tight, come with me

I left my heart on your bed sheets

Not knowing what it means to be here on a plane leaving you

This airport terminal can't see

Everywhere I wish you'd be

I'm alive when I'm missing you

I'm alive but too far

I'm alive when I'm missing you

I'm alive but too far from your room

Girl you can't make me stay

I'm saying what I have to say

Know you were just a phase

A piece of who I am today

Just another checkmark on my list of things that I regret

You're another checkmark on my list of things that I regret

I'm alive when I'm missing you

I'm alive but not missing you

I'm alive and I sleep fine

I'm alive but not missing you

I'm alive and I sleep fine in my own room
