

Feel

A Life Divided

I know you're weak, got lost in time
I dream a way so I can fly
There are stones on my legs
I can't move aside, I got a rock on my chest
So heavy and might
It feels like I was dead but I'm alive

And I feel the world is closing but I love the good news
And I feel the time is running out but I'm still in touch with you

I wanna feel the sea
I wanna the love inside of me
I wanna feel the breeze
Drown in your beautiful ways
Oh let me drown in your sea

I watch the dust covering me
Locked in a shell, I can't break free
Like a bird in a trap,
Willing to fly, I can't get up and away
From the storm in my mind
This must be the last day of my life

And I feel the world is closing but I love the good news
And I feel the time is running out but I'm still in touch with
you

I wanna feel the sea
I wanna the love inside of me
I wanna feel the breeze
Drown in your beautiful ways
Oh let me drown in your sea

I can live, I can die
I keep hanging on a lie
I can move, I can fly
With you everything's alright
I keep floating around through my head for all my life

I wanna feel the sea
I wanna the love inside of me
I wanna feel the breeze
Drown in your beautiful ways
Oh let me drown in your sea
