

Once it fall, story with its lights
It makes me fall from my ardent skies
Breaking memories, I think I felt this way before
I don't want you to say
As if you'd change my point of view

Your words can't seal my pain
So I just shout my needs
'Cause they won't stop the rain
Your words can't seal my pain
Not in a thousand years,
They won't stop the rain
They won't stop the rain

For as long, the truth is in disguise
We can move on, the way we were before we lost the sight
What we could we turn this end into something new Why couldn't we get lost in space?
And change our point of view

Your words can't seal my pain
So I just shout my needs
'Cause they won't stop the rain
Your words can't seal my pain
Not in a thousand years,
They won't stop the rain
They won't stop the rain

I will make you love again
Whatever it may take
I will make you whole again
Whatever it may take

And I don't want no fake excuses
I don't need a hall with empty words
'Cause they are unable to stop the rain

Your words can't seal my pain
So I just shout my needs
'Cause they won't stop the rain
Your words can't seal my pain
Not in a thousand years,
They won't stop the rain
They won't stop the rain
