Day of the Storm

A Pale Horse Named Death

Birds have gone silent Hear all the sirens Smell of burning fire

Trees have fallen Demons are calling For our demise

Children are running Parents are screaming Oh god is this the end ?

Tribulation
God's frustration
He will turn a blind eye

On the day of the storm Lightning crashes down You can run but never hide On that day we all die

On that day your prayers will not be heard

Sky is cracking Raining down blood Washed in the great flood

Through our greed And sinful desire We burn funeral pyres

Purged of this deadly Black parasite Mother has won this fight

Six billion dead and Oceans of red Our time has expired

On the day of the storm Lightning crashes down You can run but never hide On that day we all die

And the sun breaks through the clouds Warms my face
And the sun brings new life
Warms the ground
