

Fool's Gold

Aaron Carter

She living in this lie with him
No more coffee in the morning
I'm wide awake while he sleeping in
Know that's why you're calling

You woke up chasing feelings, healing, trouble dealing Coping with the fact that you're alone
Makes you miss my body, touching, kissing, squeezing
He don't know you're worth your weight in gold

Look at you falling
Do you even know what you're falling for?
Cause I see you falling
You traded my heart for some fool's gold

Fools Gold

Can't think about your nights with him
Wearing nothing but the moonlight
When you feel your conscience stepping in Move it to my house, what?

I don't need this pressure, you're my greatest treasure
Panties on my bed, where'd they come from?
Show up uninvited, fucking up my vibes with
All the shit that you pretend you want

Look at you falling
Do you even know what you're falling for?
Cause I see you falling
You traded my heart for some fool's gold

Fools Gold

Fools gold
Fools gold
Fools gold
Fools gold

Look at you falling
Do you even know what you're falling for?
Cause I see you falling
You traded my heart for some fool's gold

Look at you falling
Do you even know what you're falling for?
Cause I see you falling
You traded my heart for some fool's gold

Fools Gold... [repeats]
