Hearts Are Breaking Across Texas

Aaron Watson

Words cannot express The way you look in that white dress I don't believe there's ever been such a beautiful sight All my dreams are coming true That yellow rose ain't got nothing on you Hearts are breaking, across Texas tonight

And tears will be falling everywhere As you're lettin' down your hair From cowboys wishing that it was them, holding you tight That's the harsh reality I'd feel the same if you hadn't chose me Hearts are breaking, across Texas tonight

A lone star is shining right above And there's magic in the air And looking deep into your eyes I can only sympathize With those who'll never know The kind of love we share
