

Not Just Another Pretty Face

Aaron Watson

If it was just another night like so many nights before
Just another dance, another time around the floor
Just another heart, you'd break and leave behind
Tell me why you're still awake and that girl is still on your mind

'Cause she's not just another pretty face
This time you're in it for more than just the chase
Your hearts against the wall, you thought you seen 'em all
But she's not just another pretty face

You thought your heart was ten feet tall and bullet proof
'Til a girl only five foot three shot you with the cold hard truth
All your friends might say, you're way in over your head
But deep down their just jealous it's not them instead

You've gone hungry, saving for that diamond ring
I never thought you'd see the day you'd get down on a knee

'Cause she's not just another pretty face
This time you're in it for more than just the chase
Your hearts against the wall, you thought you seen 'em all
But she's not just another pretty face
