

Demise

Acid Drinkers

A chic I knew back in the day
Has fallen in a nasty way
Why get her up after the fall?
She's not my woman after all.

And in a way, I borrowed her
She ain't my bitch, why should i care?
'Your bitch - your business', they all say
But she'll be yours just the next day.

I knew the day would finally come when all breaks would fail the chum
The crash was loud, heard it from here
His cheeky grin just disappeared.

I spent the last three drinking nights
With this one guy away from bright lights
Then he decides: 'Time to get off'
The night was dark but he looked tough.

Then he was found with lifeless eyes
Some shitty dump saw his demise they cut him off a linen rope
A night like this never brings hope.

I knew the day would finally come
when all breaks would fail the chum
The crash was loud, heard it from here
His cheeky grin just disappeared.
I knew the day would finally come
when all breaks would fail the chum
The crash was loud, heard it from here
His cheeky grin just disappeared.

A guy I knew half of my life
Adrenaline his only wife
He liked to live in the fast lane
Bald tires on to make each turn, yeah!!

I knew the day would finally come
when all breaks would fail the chum
The crash was loud, heard it from here
His cheeky grin just disappeared.
I knew the day would finally come
when all breaks would fail the chum
The crash was loud, heard it from here
His cheeky grin just disappeared.
