

Would You Say Stop

Acid House Kings

Always work, always no
I am now and you're long ago
Never dream, never stay
I'm in colour and you are in grey

'Cause you are away in your other life
But I would never ever let you go
And if someone ever breaks my heart
I still hope that it's you

Would you say stop and would you turn, walk away?
Would you say don't or would choose to betray?
Would you say no?
Would you say go?
Would you say stop or would you let it all end?
Would you say don't or would you choose to pretend?
Would you say no?
Would you say go?

Autumn comes, winter goes
I try poetry, you hardly read prose
Another day, another year
I see life, you're blinded by tears

'Cause you are away in your other life
But I would never ever let you go
And if someone ever breaks my heart
I still hope that it's you

You hear yourself thinking quietly
"I'm not single, I am alone"
You hear yourself crying quietly
"I am alone"

Would you say stop and would you turn, walk away?
Would you say don't or would choose to betray?
Would you say no?
Would you say go?
Would you say stop or would you let it all end?
Would you say don't or would you choose to pretend?
Would you say no?
Would you say go?