

Stronger

Adam Gregory

There's a reason that he did what he did
And he said what he said to me
He lived it and watched it
I can still hear him telling me
Someday, somewhere the sky is gonna fall
But remember this

When your going through it all
There's a joy in the sadness
There's love in the hard times
A rainbow in the clouds
Gold in water
Just when you think you hit rock bottom
There's wings for the broken
Doors that will open
When your running out of faith
There's answers in you heart
You're stronger than you think you are

It was April the red bus were blooming
When she came to me that day
She said I love you but I hate what I'm doing
Holding you back this way
Somewhere out there your star is gonna shine

You need to chase your dream
Even if it isn't mine
And someday maybe this road we're on
Will lead us baby to the love we want
And the dreams we dream
Just as long as both of us believe
