

Real World

Adelitas Way

My eyes are feeling like concrete
My feet are feelin' heavy as hell
The sun is shining on my sheets
I need to be somebody else
You got no faith in nobody
I think you got no faith in yourself
The zombies walkin' beside me, like me
Their dreams are dying now

Everybody's gotta wake up to the real world
I know you thought that you were meant for more
I bet you never saw it coming in the real world
It's time to open your eyes
Everybody's gotta face up to the real world
It's what you make it and nothing more
And you fight for what you want in the real world
Or you'll never survive

There ain't nothing to stop me, drop me
Nothing knockin' me down
We're always letting the blind lead, not me
And time is running out

Everybody's gotta wake up to the real world
I know you thought that you were meant for more
Bet you never saw it coming in the real world
It's time to open your eyes
Everybody's gotta face up to the real world
It's what you make it and nothing more
You fight for what you want in the real world
Or you'll never survive

I'll be living in my own world
In my own world
In my own world
In my own world
In my own world

Everybody's gotta wake up to the real world
I know you thought that you were meant for more
Bet you never saw it coming in the real world
It's time to open your eyes

Everybody's gotta wake up to the real world
I know you thought that you were meant for more
Bet you never saw it coming in the real world
It's time to open your eyes
Everybody's gotta face up to the real world
It's what you make it and nothing more
You fight for what you want in the real world
Or you'll never survive
In the real world
In the real world
In the real world
