Ador Dorath

Dissatisfied with the reality
Which surrounds us
We ask and search
Break through the lines of understanding
Naturalness is our freedom

It shapes our principle and creates our world
We feel ourselves like unique and individual
We can say no!

Cognition, the first and essential element
Provides and prefigures everything
Entering the light of our consciousness
Setting the direction
Transcend... rise from the necessity of mind
Possible only in liberty
Disengage from allegiance, release us
Dependent on the world we perceive

Penetrate further
Understand each other
Realize ourselves
We start from what we know

Observing of reality breaks down the lines of necessity

We cognize reality
We have to orientate ourselves in...
We have to face reality
We have to learn to live in reality

Homo locum ornat, non locus hominem.
Credere nil vitium est, vitium est quoque credere omnia.

Wilful act of endeavour and behaviour
Quest to the world's end
To the undermost depth of what is seen

Our visions exceed perceived image
It is designed and accepted
One implicates other

We ask and search ourselves with lights of reliance
