

Blackheart

Alcatraz

Keep your eye on the prize and don't be Surprised when you see the power rise again
There's an old rocking chair and you will find
Me down there, voices getting louder again
We'll be dancing beneath the crimson light
Spitting fire with all our might

Here lies the Blackheart
One more lesson to learn

Insurrection, God's protection,
Now and evermore
Lead us from the gates of hell,
Now's the sacred hour
Revolution, man's solution,
Name the day and hour
We will tear the buildings down,
Speak the truth to power

So we stand at the gates laugh and
Scream at our fate, whatever one is easier
They call both heads and tails, so they Always prevail, keep the secrets in the dark
Just another thief just one more lie
Brings us to ruin as they feed their desires

Here lies the Blackheart
One more lesson to learn

Insurrection, God's protection,
Now and evermore
Lead us from the gates of hell,
Now's the sacred hour
Revolution, man's solution,
Name the day and hour
We will tear the buildings down,
Speak the truth to power

Talk is so cheap, they fast on our pain
Now they will bring us to ruin

Here lies the Blackheart
Dead and gone
Rise in the morning with the sun
Here lies the Blackheart
Dead and gone
Rise in the morning with the sun

We'll be dancing beneath the crimson light
Spitting fire with all our might

Here lies the Blackheart
One more lesson to learn

Insurrection, God's protection,
Now and evermore
Lead us from the gates of hell,

Now's the sacred hour
Revolution, man's solution,
Name the day and hour
We will tear the buildings down,

All hail the Blackheart
Speak the truth to power
All hail the Blackheart,
Now's the time's the hour
