

Nightwatch

Alcatrazz

Eyed of fire, city lights, the neon is aglow
From afar you watch the quartz light burn
You're safe inside, double glazed,
Secured by fish eye lens
A world away from the streets below

That's where they hide,
They know the search for life goes on
That's where they roam,
The Nightwatch has arrived

The full moon is calling them
Back from the past
Watch as the shadows come alive
Their howling is heard through
The mist of the dark
Beware or run for your life

The sound calls them homeward,
Back to the place
The tower where once their people burned,
Run with the pack, at the sound of the bell
A city or a village of the damned

That's where they hide,
They know the search for life goes on
That's where they roam,
The Nightwatch has arrived

The full moon is calling them
Back from the past
Watch as the shadows come alive
Their howling is heard through
The mist of the dark
Beware or run for your life

All eyes, are watching the blackened skies,
Be aware the Nightwatch has arrived

That's where they hide,
They know the search for life goes on
That's where they roam,
The Nightwatch has arrived

The full moon is calling them
Back from the past
Watch as the shadows come alive
Their howling is heard through
The mist of the dark
Beware or run for your life
