

Turn of the Wheel

Alcatrazz

I see a face in the mirror
Cold eyes staring at me
The lines tell me the story
Lost hope, lost dignity

Do you believe in now?
Your time's at hand
Lord of the Last Day
You will rise
Do you believe me now?
We will shine
Don't deny me now
Believe in the moment

And if we find the key
To lock away the past
Of mystery and desire

Turn of the wheel
Dream can turn to nightmares
Nothing is real
Between the truth and lies
Turn of the wheel
Today becomes tomorrow
Nothing is real
Yesterday is gone so let it burn

So cold, life on the outside
A withered hand, fueling the flame
As light turns into darkness
Will you remember my name?

Do you believe in now?
Your time's at hand
Lord of the Last Day
You will rise
Do you believe me now?
We will shine
Don't deny me now
Believe in the moment

And if we find the key
To lock away the past
Of mystery and desire

Turn of the wheel
Dream can turn to nightmares
Nothing is real
Between the truth and lies
Turn of the wheel
Today becomes tomorrow
Nothing is real
Yesterday is gone,
Time to move along and let it burn

And if we find the key
To lock away the past

Of mystery and desire

Turn of the wheel
Nothing is real
Turn of the wheel
Yesterday is gone,
Time to move along and let it burn
