

The Last Letter

Alisha's Attic

Did you read that last letter that I wrote?
Before you burnt it on the fire
And picked up the phone
Told me "we're not compatible
You don't feel the sparks"
How easy your potent tone
Burnt a hole in my heart
Just forget
And add me to your list of names
It's a safe bet
You think I'm consumed with the pain
Did you read that last letter that I wrote?
Even though now it's ashes
It contained the quote
Told you "I've been ecstatic
With somebody else
For over three months now
He's been giving me what you don't"
Just forget
I've added you to my list of names
It's a safe bet
You never thought I would play your game
Just forget
I've added you to my list of names
It's a safe bet
You never thought I would play your game
But ah
Did you read that last letter that I wrote?
Did you read that last letter that I wrote?
