

Too Far Forgotten

Alisha's Attic

He comes to me with the blue jeans on
Like you care how I'm doing
Baby, it's wrong
You missed your chance with me, and it's gone
What's a girl to do except get another

Well, I don't look at you that way
Well, I've seen my lips in your eyes
It's too far forgotten now
It's too far forgotten now
I don't feel a thing for you, baby
No, no, no, not lately
I'd like to say I missed you
But I'd be lying to you
You've got to get on now without me
Don't you understand me, babe?
Watch me as my lips speak to you
Too far forgotten now
(Too far forgotten)

He comes to me like eternal change
Sits down, says "you want a beer, babe?"
You've got to be told
I've got to be bold
I've done the deed, I got the lover

'Cause I don't look at you that way
Well, I've seen heaven in your eyes
It's too far forgotten now
It's too far forgotten now
I don't feel a thing for you, baby
No, no, no, not lately
I'd like to say I missed you
But I'd be lying to you
You've got to get on now without me
Don't you understand me, babe?
Watch me as my lips speak to you
Too far forgotten now

You think I dream of you
Think I think of you every day, hey
(Do do do...)
