

Message from Kathlene

Alkaline Trio

I guess I'll always stop and see you,
and we'll run into each other's lives.
Yeah, I guess, although it tears me up inside every time.
It burns my eyes with tears.

But I know you're worth the pain.
I've so much more to gain by waiting for you.

You're going away, but you're not going far.
So if he decides to leave you alone and crying.
You know I'm still here.
The faithful one.
Waiting for a message from Kathlene.

Then I'll come faster than I ever thought that I could run.
Because I need you more than I ever thought that I could need someone, yeah.
Someone, someone else.
That I could need someone else.
Someone else.

I know I will always stop and see you and we'll run into each other's fucked up lives.
Yeah, I guess, although it tears me up inside every time.
It burns my eyes with tears.

But you're waking up is the start of my lost cause.
And then you decide to leave me alone and crying.
But you know I'm still here.
The faithful one.
Waiting for a message from Kathlene.

Then I'll come faster than I ever thought that I could run.
Because I need you more than I ever thought that I could need someone, yeah.
Someone, someone else.
That I could need someone else.
Someone else.
