

Midnight Blue

Alkaline Trio

It came just like the rising sun
The shame of everything I've done
The pain
Blew in just like a storm
And now it rains
And will forever more

What's a boy to do?
I had nobody but you
My heart is sad but true
And midnight blue

And it died out there in the sun
A dead rose from the ceiling it hung
And you cried
You cried out your fucking eyes
Before you sang
Me happy birthday one last time

What's a girl to do?
I had nobody but you
Your heart is sad but true
And midnight blue
And midnight blue
And midnight blue
And midnight blue

I keep a photograph in a drawer
Since the day you left me at my door
And now there's nothing left of you and me
I'm a total wreck, I'm smoldering

What's a boy to do?
I had nobody but you
And our hearts are sad but true
And midnight blue
And midnight blue
And midnight blue
And midnight blue

And now our hearts are midnight blue
