

Dashing Knight

ALL CAPS

They met by chance at the kings royal ball
They fell in love like leaves in the fall
They went to dance and never let go
With eyes like gems that began to glow

And he said:
I'll be your dashing knight
You'll be my princess, fair lady We'll ride into the night
you are like sunlight fair lady

Born the daughter of noble birthright She's wrapped in pearls and dressed in white Seventeen, soon to be married to her knight, whose wrapped in armour and dressed to fight.

And he said:
I'll be your dashing knight
You'll be my princess, fair lady
We'll ride into the night
you are like sunlight fair lady

Then days came when unrest filled this land.
The king called for every able bodied man but over time their love had grown more and more When the knight was to go off to war

And He said:
I will be back
And she said:
oh knight you must promise me that it feels like we've just begun there is so much left undone
And she cried out "you mustn't leave me"
He said "I will always love thee"
I'll be back, I will be back, I can promise you can count on that

But the knight is wounded from the battle raging all around him and he lapses in and out of consciousness as they surround him and with his last breath he cries out and she awakens in the night, remember me, remember always

I'll be your dashing knight
You'll be my princess, fair lady
We'll ride into the night
you are like sunlight fair lady

I'll be your dashing knight
You'll be my princess, fair lady
you are like sunlight fair lady
