

Lucky Bastard

All Get Out

You really do always want more.
Out on the road all I want is a home.
Then David spoke about my future.
You lucky bastard with a beautiful wife, she's mine.

I was born for a few reasons.
To love my neighbor more than he loves his life
Got to say that it was easy.
That sad old man committed suicide last night.

I really do always wan't more.
Out on the road all I want is a warm home.
Then David spoke about my future to me.
Winners don't quit, keep your eye on the finish line.

I was born for a few reasons.
I love my neighbor more than he loves his wife.
Got to say that it was easy for me.
That sad old man well she killed him last night.

I got another reason...I want to go home
This city's f**king cold and I want to go home.
I'm feeling co-dependent, I miss my baby girl.
