

A Different Someone

Allele

Lashes out again
Silently I can't keep from caving in
The truth is I always wanted to be the one
That you could confide in
As I hear the sound, of a voice
Telling me not so loud
As I hear the sound

Suddenly I'm so different
I'm so different from you
I dream for hours on end
About a life I could never believe in
Betrayed by what you would say
It comes around again
I pay no mind for something I just cannot hide
As I hear that sound, as I hear that sound
Telling me

Suddenly I'm so different
I'm so different from you
Devils be the ones
Tells me I've nothing to loose if I'm falling
Before I cave I want you to know
You did this to me

Suddenly I'm so different
I'm so different from you
But I realize the difference is you
