

Let It Go

Allele

This ache that you push is causing a rush
Just letting you know, step back, don't blow it
Just ask, is it worth?
Be calm, just know it's overrated

Let it go and try to find
A way to cope, you can leave it all behind
The last face you'd want to know
Is looking back at you with a loaded gun, let it go

Hope you're getting your fix, I'm letting it go
I already know, you don't always end up a hero
So does it give you power
Try to make me feel like a coward

Your kind is a waste
Don't ask, it's not worth it
Look straight and choke up
Know you can overcome anything

Let it go and try to find
A way to cope, you can leave it all behind
The last face you'd want to know
Is looking back at you with a loaded gun, let it go
