

Bloodlines

Allen-Lande

Rising with the setting sun
Never time to rest
Hard to get this off my mind
Get it off my chest
Re-appearing deep inside
Seems I cannot stand
She is fading out of time
Bloodstains on my hands

She was all I had in mind, we would runaway
Whispering to haunt my mind, every single day

All I left behind was tears
And cries of great despair
She said she would meet me there
Once my work was done

Ara! You left me hanging high and dry
Never told me why
Can I, can I undo what I have done
I thought you were the one
I thought you were the one

Seems I cannot settle down
They'll pick up my trace
I am known in every town
Pictures of my face

Everything s reminding me
Of all the time we spent together
She will come to rescue me
She will hear my cry

Ara! You left me hanging high and dry
Never told me why
Can I, can I undo what I have done
I thought you would outshine the sun

There's a movement at my door
Maybe she has found my hideout
Things will be like just before
Bloodlines sealed my fate

Ara! You left me hanging high and dry
Never told me why
Can I, can I undo what I have done

Ara! You left me hanging high and dry
Never told me why
Can I, can I undo what I have done
I thought you were the one

I thought you were the one
I thought you were the one
