

The Revenge

Allen-Lande

I want you to feel it in your bones
Want you to feel all of my pain
See all the demons in the world that you created
I want you to live one of my days
Want you to dream one of my dreams
Time has come for you to feel what I feel

I can remember now
everything you ever said to me
I can recall the pain
And now the time has come
I can remember now
All the words that made me disappear
I can recall the pain
And now the time has come
For my revenge

Do you believe I will forget
Do you think that I won't see
All the lies that you are hiding behind
Now is your turn to live in fear
Now is your turn to hide in the dark
The time has come for you to feel what I feel
