

Freezer Burn

Allen Stone

Just cause you glitter

When I met you three months ago
I said to myself, "Man, this girl seems cold"
Just cause you glitter doesn't mean you're gold
Just cause you're selling doesn't mean I'm sold

On my back before the dawn was closed
You kissed my neck and then you broke my bones
When the fires of this butterfly knows
I can't find the way your feeling goes

Your love is like
Your love is like
Your love is like freezer burn
Your love is like
Your love is like
Your love is like freezer burn

I told myself that I was done
Laced my boots but now my feet won't run
I gave you all my attention
You turned your head but then gave me none

Your love is like
Your love is like
Your love is like freezer burn
Your love is like
Your love is like
Your love is like freezer burn

I would have never gave you everything that I possess
I would have never gave you everything that I have left
I would have never gave you everything that I possess
I would have never gave you everything that I have left
I would have never gave you everything that I possess
I would have never gave you everything that I have left
I would have never gave you everything that I possess
I would have never gave you everything that I have left
I would have never gave you everything that I possess
I would have never gave you everything that I have left
I would have never gave you every...
