

Look Outside

Allen Stone

Look outside
The world is changing in front of my eyes
What a beautiful thing to witness
What is this?
Consistently I'm captured in your reverie

Look outside (look outside)
The world is colored in love, it's all so right (so right)
What a wonderful kind of madness
The canvas collaborates with calculated mystery

And I wanna hold it in my hands
And try to understand
Why everything is in its place
'Cause now is not what stays

Look outside (look outside)
The moon is dancing on the water every night
What an incredible kind of disco
One can't seem to dance without the other one

Look outside (look outside)
So much more for you to see behind your eyes (behind your eyes)
Is a magical kind of spaceship
Every moment is a crazy kind of miracle, yeah yeah

And I wanna hold it in my hands
And try to understand
Why everything is in its place
'Cause now is not what stays

And I wanna hold it in my hands
And try to understand
Why everything is in its place
'Cause now is not what stays
