

When I look in your eyes
It's like breathing in your warm skin
When I'm kissing your lips
I feel your warm arms around me

And it takes time
To move in
to move in
and it takes time
to move on
to move on

It's never been
some kind of easy game to play

Want to sleep in your skin Breathing is better than it's ever been I get lost and just Twist inside your dreaming guide
I wonder how it is I never tried

And it takes time
To move in
to move in
and it takes time
to move on
to move on

It's never been
some kind of easy game to play
and I haven't won yet But I've got just one idea yet
