American Head Charge

I know this much I cant stand me when I become him I know this much I dont feel free when Im repentant tell him this much you dont want him due to extra skin tell him this much you forsake him due to pretension now we have everything we need to come up to where youre pristine we believe tell him this much you cant withstand taking it upright tell him this much you felt dirty because it was tight I know this much that old feeling Im done hanging on I know this much stop pretending what was had is gone now we have everything we need to come up to where you are seen we believe
