

Forget It All

Amy Studt

I've seen you fall with stupid pride
The vulnerability you try to hide
Forget the past and look at me now
A cold expression on your face
From your contempts, I feel disgraced
Forget it all and look at me now

You wanted the mystery
You asked for the real me
My mask is beginning to slide

So where we gonna go from here, my love?
What am I gonna say when you won't hear me?
You should know I'm here by your side if you need me

Will you take my love if I show you how?
Oh, I could never be what you want from me
Still, I'd give you everything if you, if you take my life
Would you take my love?

How many times have I tried
To tell you, I apologize?
Forget my words and look at me now
Three names cut deep inside your heart
And one of them, which is scarred
Forget the pain and look at me now

See, you never knew me
But still you got to me
I can't seem to leave you behind

So where we gonna go from here, my love?
What am I gonna say when you won't hear me?
You should know I'm here by your side if you need me

Will you take my love if I show you how?
Oh, I could never be what you want from me
Still, I'd give you everything if you, if you take my life
Take my love

Will you take my love if I show you how?
Oh, I could never be what you want from me
Still, I'd give you everything if you, if you take my life
Take my love
Would you take my love?

Take a look at me now