

Calm, Calm, Calm Yourself

Anchor & Braille

There is no one I would have rather
Spent my life within with you
Grew up way too fast
The first time that we kissed seems distant past
There is no one I would have rather
Raised a little family with
And when you tuck the children in at night
I couldn't help smiling at their mother's eyes

Calm calm calm, calm yourself
When life gets weary
Calm calm calm, calm yourself
When worry scares you
Calm calm calm, calm yourself
'Cause I will be here
..or there

There is nowhere in this whole world
That we could not have gone
Long distance calls, from distant lands
As the sun sets on a foreign (???)
There is nowhere in this old soul
That you could not explore
You know me inside and out
With all my faults still you love me all the more

Calm calm calm, calm yourself
When life gets weary
Calm calm calm, calm yourself
When worry scares you
Calm calm calm, calm yourself
'Cause I will be here
..or there
