

A Sea of Stars

Ancient Dome

"I have seen in the distance a fading glimpse of fear.
The atmosphere has changed, in a moment all troubles are far away..."

"And so I began the journey across the stars, following my Fate
In my whole life I have seen things that still torment my dreams
Now this trip to look for identity is the only certainty

Earth... Portal... Gates... Black Holes...

Sometimes I ask myself if I wanna dream anymore
I left behind the motherland what I won't remember so long
While I jot down these lines, I focus on my pain
I see a galactic sea of stars, will it be the goal or a trip in vain?

Earth... Portal... Gates... Black Holes...

I saw a sea of stars right in front of me...
A Sea of Stars...

In my whole life I've only seen my dreams thrown away
I have seen in the distance a fading glimpse of fear
The atmosphere has changed and in a moment all doubts ran away
So I began the journey to finally know what's the rightest way to live!

Earth... Portal... Gates... Black Holes...

I saw a sea of stars right in front of me...
A Sea of Stars..."
