

Some Girl

Andy Grammer

How does a stranger walk into my life
And change what I thought it meant to be alive
It's crazy how you went from being just some girl

I didn't know you
I didn't even know me
I was a soldier
I was a one man army
I thought the future
Didn't apply to me
And when I met you
Come on, I was 23
Oh, now you're every
Oh, thing to me
I wouldn't have believed ya
If ya told me

How does a stranger walk into my life
And change what I thought it meant to be alive
It's crazy how you went from being just some girl
Oh-oh, to being my whole world
To being my whole world

And now you're my soulmate
And you get my shit if I die
And we got our own home
You're the mother of my child
There's nothing that I don't
That I do not know about your life
You're my one phone call
Ain't that shit wild

How does a stranger walk into my life
And change what I thought it meant to be alive
It's crazy how you went from being just some girl
To being my whole world
To being my whole world
(To being my whole world)

You could be, you could be gone
Just a decision I could've got wrong
But now you're them now you're the one for me, always
I was just lucky and dumb
I got in early with someone who was
Better than anything I coulda foreseen, so tell me

How does a stranger walk into my life
And change what I thought it meant to be alive
It's crazy how you went from being just some girl
To being my whole world, ooh
To being my whole world, ooh

How does a stranger walk into my life
And change what I thought it meant to be alive
It's crazy how you went from being just some girl
Being just some girl
