

A Twist of Fate

Andy Williams

Life is a book
Each day is a page
Each word - a moment in time
And as you read
The story unfolds
It's there to see in your mind

In my book of memories
Are words I don't understand
Someone else has written there
A pen in a different hand

As I look back
And think of the past
Would I have chosen this way
One never knows
What life has in store
You live it day by day

Why is it
When something's wrong
It suddenly turns out great?
Is it a twist of fate?

I've had my share
Of broken hearts
And tears and pain
What makes a man
Get on his feet
And start again
Fate

Why is it when you're content
And everything's in it's place
In the midst of happiness
Love suddenly turns to hate
Is it a twist of fate?
Is it a twist of fate?
