

Hear Them Roar

Anette Olzon

Did you really think I would change?
Change to be the one you wanted me to be
Stuck at home in your little built up fantasy

Take my bags now I'm ready to go
Changing misery for a joyride
Here I am just in time to start a show

Hear them roar take the stage take a bow
Instant feeling of high feel the loving light
Cold as ice as I wave my goodbyes
Left to be faced with your judging eyes

You can never fill the void
Give the ego all the boost it hungers for
Let me go I will never be the one you need

Take my bags now I'm ready to go
No more misery time for joyride
Here I am ready for another tour

Hear them roar take the stage take a bow
Instant feeling of high feel the loving light
Cold as ice as I wave my goodbyes
Left to be faced with your judging eyes

Fill void with your ego
Que darkness
Left cold as you go
You're flying high on illusions of grandeur
A fleeting moment you claw at the stars
A life spent racing towards your grand tour
But fame and fortune won't cover your scars

Know you want to blame
Fill me up with shame
You never understood me
Scars can all be healed lives can't be relived
It's time to take my leave

Take my bags now I'm ready to go
No more misery time for joyride
Here I am ready for another tour
