

One Million Faces

Anette Olzon

Where are those hidden miracles
We once shared
The laughters in the night

No one knows how the story goes
Make believes
Hidden like a ghost

All I wanted in my life was you
Dreams and moments that was shared with you
One million faces but the one I knew
Were all a masquerade
One million faces

In the dark
In the darkest night
All I hear are shadows from behind

Now I see all the things so clear
But my pain still remains the same

All I wanted in my life was you
Dreams and moments that was shared with you
One million faces but the one I knew

All I wanted in my life was you
Dreams and moments that was shared with you
One million faces but the one I knew
Were all a masquerade
One million faces