

Sad Lullaby

Anette Olzon

I hear it in your voice
How you have changed you're not the man from before
The one who kept me safe as shadows reached under the door

Worn out from all the pain
Essence of life so slowly fading away
A piece of you is gone
Your armors failing but your will remains

Move towards the light
Leave the sorrow far behind
Hear them call your time is now
Sing my lullaby
Know you're watching over me forever

The end is nearer now
Grasp every minute won't believe it's goodbye
Through ash and stones I know
You'll always be with me for life

A final tear will fall
To bridge the gap built up by time and space
Now enter silent end
One last farewell, one last embrace

Move towards the light
Leave the sorrow far behind
Hear them call your time is now
Sing my lullaby
Know you're watching over me forever

The end is nearer now
Grasp every minute won't believe it's goodbye
Through ash and stones I know
You'll always be with me for life
A final tear will fall
To bridge the gap built up by time and space

Move towards the light
Leave the sorrow far behind
Hear them call your time is now
Sing my lullaby
Know you're watching over me forever
Move towards the light
Leave the sorrow far behind
Hear them call your time is now
Sing my lullaby
Know you're watching over me forever
