

California burning

A New Revolution

Look up to the sky and see
All the great that's inside me
I feel like it's a brand new start
From something that's been torn apart

Won't be long now
'till this burns again
Won't be long now
Set a fire in me

Gone is all the hate in me
Buried in the world I see
Will I learn from what I've done
Or will I kill this lesson learned

Won't be long now
'till this burns again
Won't be long now
Set a fire in me

Everything seems clear as day
Now the smoke has blown away
From the mountain I can see
Still a chance at what used to be

Won't be long now
'till this burns again
Won't be long now
Set a fire in me
