

Losing My Mind

Angels & Airwaves

I won't open these eyes
Like there's chaos in my mind
Like dreaming of death, or
That feeling that you get
When the disk is corrupt
When we're running low on luck
Yeah, and everyone's

Drugged up, tripping at midnight
While howling at the moonlight
Dancing with knives like
The fire, it will burn on
High at my day job
I tried to set some bombs off
While smoking some napalm
It makes me want to

Everyone has crossed the line
Now and then you will be fine

I live on the edge, I must be losing my mind
Get out of my head, it's now the scene of a crime
This world is on fire, and I am ice
Can't balance things lately, I think we're gonna die
Must be losing my mind

Stop now
What is this bullshit?
I said we're not alone
And the government knows it
There's idiots abound
And they're all fucking racist
I'll put us back at ease
'Cause we need more complacence
We're all gonna die

Everyone, has crossed the line
Now and then you will be fine

I live on the edge, I must be losing my mind
Get out of my head, it's now the scene of a crime
This world is on fire, and I am ice
Can't balance things lately, I think we're gonna die
I live on the edge, I must be losing my mind
I'm staying in bed to watch the cities ignite
The devil ain't retired, he's just thinking out loud
Everyone is crazy, and it's freaking me out
I must be losing my mind

(I must be losing, I must be losing...)

I live on the edge, I must be losing my mind
Get out of my head, it's now the scene of a crime
This world is on fire, and I am ice
Can't balance things lately, I think we're gonna die
I live on the edge of fucking losing my mind
The voice in my head is now a fatal house fire

The devil made us beg, and then he took away the high
They say that we're crazy, now it's sounding about right
I must be losing my mind
