

Newborn Sun

Angelzoom

Why cry all the people staring at the sky
Listen to the preacher men who prophesy
Angels lost their light
Can't give us a new dawn
A kingdom of no faith and hope is born

One light
Will tear apart the night
Bringing back a newborn sun
One light
Will tear apart the night
Bringing back a newborn sun

Why die all die angels guarding our light
Lost inside the maze of everlasting night
People broke their heart
With bombs and guns and greed
Shaped a desert based on hate and need

One light
Will tear apart the night
Bringing back a newborn sun
One light
Will tear apart the night
Bringing back a newborn sun

Why cry all the angels staring at the rain
Watching all the children who got fathers cane
Won't we ask that god do harmony on earth
That peace and love and hope our hearts reserve

One light
Will tear apart the night
Bringing back a newborn sun
One light
Will tear apart the night
Bringing back a newborn sun
