Why cry all the people staring at the sky Listen to the preacher men who prophesy Angels lost their light Can't give us a new dawn A kingdom of no faith and hope is born

One light
Will tear apart the night
Bringing back a newborn sun
One light
Will tear apart the night
Bringing back a newborn sun

Why die all die angels guarding our light Lost inside the maze of everlasting night People broke their heart With bombs and guns and greed Shaped a desert based on hate and need

One light
Will tear apart the night
Bringing back a newborn sun
One light
Will tear apart the night
Bringing back a newborn sun

Why cry all the angels staring at the rain Watching all the children who got fathers cane Won't we ask that god do harmony on earth That peace and love and hope our hearts reserve

One light
Will tear apart the night
Bringing back a newborn sun
One light
Will tear apart the night
Bringing back a newborn sun
