

Losing You

Anna Ternheim

Fine white sheets
Candles too
Beds in a straight row
One's for you
No one talks
Straight at you
Just outside in the hallway
Flowers in the window
Red and blue
Rose, people here still think of you
No bleeding eyes
When they pass
Don't bang your head
Against the glass
What can I do
I'm losing you
What can I do
I'm losing you
What can I do
I'm losing you
What can I do
I'm losing you
From the doorway
Watching you sleep
Before you wake up
Not when you eat
Keep it straight
Wipe your mouth
Keep it down
Rose, don't shut
What can I do
I'm losing you
What can I do
I'm losing you
What can I do
I'm losing you
What can I do
I'm losing you
From the doorway
Watching you sleep
Before you wake up
Not when you eat
Keep it straight
Wipe your mouth
Keep it down
Rose, don't shut
What can I do
I'm losing you
What can I do
I'm losing you...
