

Lucifer

Anna Tsuchiya

From the sunset sky of the east
Along with the violent shadows
And you came here

When chains were nailed down
To this raw flesh of mine
And when the tears of blood
Splattered the skies red
I lay down to bloody ground
My wings were torn from me
I became a lucifer
An angel that I could not fly

Scars make my body suffer
I just want someone to rely on
But no one's here
Lucifer
I was deceived by your sweet words
And I couldn't even hate you
I wear a mask of sorrow
Mask of sorrow
Your tongues crawl up my body
And I become hardened with lies
I become hardened with lies

My heart has been shut out
All I want is just true love
If only I get my wings back
I can fly away up there
You trampled on my wings and you sneered at me
Like scattered bills on the pavement
You are promiscuous

A greedy, selfish kind of love is the only
Kind of love strikes me so hard
You should be raped by the seven deadly sins for all I care forever

Scars make my body suffer
I just want someone to rely on
But no one's here
Lucifer

Even though I can grasp this love
It slips right through these fingers
I wear a mask of sorrow
Mask of sorrow
Broken promises were sacrificed
My feet will continue to be soaked in an ocean of blood
Prayers are just screams
Forgiveness is just a word
I glare at heaven
On top of a cliff

Prayers are just screams
Forgiveness is just a word
I glare at heaven
On top of a cliff

I was deceived by your sweet words
And I couldn't even hate you
I wear a mask of sorrow
Mask of sorrow
Your tongues crawl up my body
And I become hardened with lies

Even though I can grasp this love
It slips right through these fingers
I wear a mask of sorrow
Mask of sorrow
Broken promises were sacrificed
My feet will continue to be soaked in an ocean of blood

My heart has been shut out
All I want is just true love
If only I get my wings back
I can fly away up there
