

I Saw What You Did

Annisokay

I know they were your fingerprints
On the skin around her neck
It's so black and white that you drink
From the blood of life itself
I know what you left in the wreck
With the corpse of innocence
I know what you meant when you said
You should stay for one more drink

And I saw what you did
You slipped some death into her drink
And I know what you think
That you got away with it

But I promise you
You'll care about what's next
Yeah I promise you
You'll care about what's next

I watched as you crept from the edge
Into the center of the crowd
Until you had found the kind of girl
You could take and you could drown
And that's what you did as you held
Her body senseless on the ground
And that's what you did when you turned
The world she lived in upside down

And I saw what you did
You slipped some death into her drink
And I know what you think
That you got away with it

But I followed you
Back to the edge of the crowd
Back out into the suburbs
Until I stood outside our house

I promise you
You'll care about what happens next
