

Dawn of Blood

Anthenora

I see my shadow fading yet
At sunset while riding
And say "goodbye"
Don't know if I'll see it again

In the silence of the night
Black suggestions come through my mind

Hiding on the ground
Alone me and my gun
Fear the night, to turn to dawn
And see their evil eyes
Looking for a target in sight

In the silence of the night
Black suggestions come through my mind

Coming from the sky
Coming through the night
I see the enemies
And say
"Overlord, that's a dawn of blood!"

I see them climbing the hill
Unhuman creatures under my carabin
They have no will, no blood, no life
I live a nightmare with open eyes

In the silence of the night
Black suggestions come through my mind

Coming from the sky
Coming through the night
I see the enemies
And say:
"Overlord, that's a dawn of blood!"
