

Blame It On Yourself

Anthony B

Oh we're finally going to lay out our lives
There's nothing left to share
there's nothing I can dare
No we won't start over like the last time
I let the credits roll as fast as I could do

So please don't pretend
You'll stay
I know when I'll wake up you'll be gone away
Be my latest one night stand
Blame it on yourself
Blame it on you

You thought that I was going to hold it back twice?
It's deafening as hell
I knew it all back then
Everyone steps back when roads don't collide
I'm seeking other ways as fast as I could do

So please don't pretend
You'll stay
I know when I'll wake up you'll be gone away
Be my latest one night stand
Blame it on yourself
Blame it on you

So please don't pretend
You'll stay
I know when I'll wake up you'll be gone away
Be my latest one night stand
Blame it on yourself

So please don't pretend
You'll stay
I know you're a thousand miles away
Be my latest one night stand
Blame it on yourself
Blame it on you
